After clicking Save you will arrive at this screen below. If you plan to use the same Breeze account to maintain your license AND subscribe to license notifications for your employees, you should follow the steps on how to onboard your license in the “How to Create your Breeze VO Account” guide. If you are an employer of many employees, the Bureau suggests you create a separate Breeze VO Account to subscribe to employee license notifications; each account will require a different email address.

Follow the steps below to subscribe to license notifications without onboarding your license.
